QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER:

How do the characters' experiences or growth reflect seasons of change in your own life?

What central messages do you see in the stories, and how do they relate to your own strengths, interests, or values?

What ideas in the stories challenged your thinking or introduced something new? How might these inspire your curiosity?

How do the themes help you understand your role at Berry and the community you want to help build?

As you begin Your Berry Journey, which parts of the stories reflect the college experience you hope to have or the kind of life you hope to live? How might they guide your growth at Berry?
